Response to the Psalm: With the Lord there is mercy and fullness of redemption.

Second reading: 2Corinthians 4:13-5:1

Gospel Acclamation: Alleluia, alleluia! If anyone loves me he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we shall come to him Alleluia!

Gospel: Mark 3:20-35

Dear Parishioners

Jesus’s home in Capernaum is probably the home of Simon and Andrew. Jesus is building a new house, an alternative to the Temple of Jerusalem. There, access was restricted, but this new house is open to the great crowds who have come in search of him, as well as the tax collectors, sinners, scribes and Pharisees. In the midst of all of this Jesus’s relatives come in to ‘seize’ him. The word is a very strong one. It is used again in the Gospel to describe the action of the guards when they come to arrest Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane. Mark suggests that Jesus’s family did not understand the nature of his mission, they come to him out of love. They want to prevent him from being hurt by failure. When they arrive, they find him teaching to a full house. It is full not only of interested and curious people, but also his disciples whom he has just called to be with him. These disciples have begun the journey away from their own homes and families. Later on, they will say ‘we have left everything to follow you.’ To leave family means to leave security, to leave those who care for you, who will tend you when you are sick and when you are old. Jesus means that when you leave your family you are casting yourself on God’s providence. You are committing yourself to your heavenly Father.
